Little Helen Floyd and mother, Mrs. Annie E. Floyd, desire us to announce that Helen is not a member of any dancing club or whist club, but although only eleven years of age, she is a consistent Christian and desires to be known as such among her friends, and an injustice has been done her when the announcement is published that she is an officer or member of either a whist or dancing club. The Editor says burial for Little Helen. May other little Misses emulate her inspiring example.

Mrs. John Lewis, who was Mrs. Lillian Savington, writes from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, that she often receives the Sun and had no idea she so dearly loved a newspaper as she does it. She says it is much better than getting a letter from home each week. She also says that Prince Rupert is a lovely little place with the most beautiful scenery and that she can sit at her window and see the large vessels going to and from Alaska. She says they expect to go to Alaska in March and desires to be remembered to the many readers of the Sun.

LAST CALL THIS YEAR

Edison says that when this great war is over, the energies of the world will be glad to turn to invention, engineering and productive labor and that the greatest constructive advance in history will follow.

What sense or profit is there for us in waiting until after the war to buy and sell, to reap and sow, to make and order, to live and let live? You may have heard of the little girl who was bawling lustily with her brother, who wanted a drink, but who said she herself was only "helping Bobbie cry." Among the millions of business men in this country there are always some who are unhappy. No matter how good their reasons, no real help is given by helping them cry.

We hope no customers of ours will hold their breath or hold their orders. We shall be glad to receive them, and fill them, and we believe the result will be good for both.

Permit us to remind you that we are doing business at the same stand.

Our service during the past two years both to the business and professional man as well as those in charge of the most deluxe social functions has been one that might well have been envied by a larger and more efficient establishment operated by members of the opposite race.

It has been our constant attempt to guard every order placed with us with accuracy and dispatch.

We appreciate the patronage we have received from our myriad of patrons in the past; but we have, what you yourself must also feel, a hankering for more business. The Postman passes your door and ours and we are at the other end of the Bell telephone, East 2782.

Cordially yours,
HARRIS PRINTING CO.,

Among the Churches

ST. STEPHEN'S BAPTIST CHURCH.
The following program will be sung Christmas morning at 4 a. m. at the St. Stephen's Baptist church:
"The Vision"—Solo and procession, Jesse Harris, tenor.
Hymn anthem—"Years Ago in Bethlehem."

"The Christmas Song" (Bates)—Mrs. Bertha Brown.
Hymn—"Joy to the World."
"There I Long to Be With Jesus" (Simons).
"Hark What Celestial Notes I Hear"—Miss Edith Richard.
Carols—"Onward the Glory Guides," "The Seraphs Song."
Rev. J. W. Hume, pastor, will preach "The Birth of Christ."

VINE STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.
Sister Ella Gilham has been ill for some time and is improving. Sister Thomas Pollard underwent a very painful operation but is doing fine at this writing. We hope she will continue to improve. The funeral of Sister Cummings was preached last Tuesday by Rev. T. H. Ewing at the parlors of Watkins Bros. undertaking establishment. We extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy. On account of the severe weather we had a small attendance Sunday but the pastor preached an excellent sermon in the morning and at night he gave one of his famous lectures. Dr. Ewing said many good things, among which was that many of our failures in life was due to the fact that we did not understand. Every person was well pleased and decided in their hearts to get a better understanding.

CENTENNIAL M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

The address of Dr. H. T. Kealing to the Sunday School campaign workers Monday night, was scholarly, eloquent and to the point, and will prove an inspiration to the men and women who have undertaken this splendid task. The literary department of the Epworth League have prepared an excellent program for the Christmas night entertainment. The following talented individuals will take part: Prof. F. J. Will render a tenor solo; Mrs. Marilda J. Gardner, Mrs.

Virginia Akers and Wendel Pryor will recite; Mrs. Ella Williams, Mr. Edgar Williams and Arthur Sanders will render vocal selections; an instrumental solo by Mrs. Jessie Smith and a cornet solo by Mr. W. A. True will complete the program. The social department will serve refreshments. The Sunday evening meetings of the League are proving both instructive and entertaining. A special program Sunday evening, December 27.

ALLEN CHAPEL NOTES.

Although the weather was very disagreeable last Sunday, yet quite a large audience assembled at Allen for the morning service. It being Quarterly meeting day, Dr. Wm. H. Peck, Presiding Elder, officiated both morning and evening, and his sermon at 11 o'clock has never been excelled and will live always in the memory of his hearers. There were six additions to the church in the morning. At 12:30 Dr. B. W. Bacote, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, his full supplied choir and congregation braved the storm and marched across, took charge of the services and gave us a collection of $26.63. At 3 o'clock Dr. W. C. Williams of Ebenezer, preached an inspiring and soul stirring Communion sermon. Communion was administered to more than 400 persons. Many strangers in the audience were announced by the pastor. Great preparations are being made for the holidays.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.

Sister Ruth Price, a soprano singer of note and an active B. Y. P. U. worker, who underwent a second serious operation, is not doing so well. Sister Juanita Johnson, who is also indisposed, is improving. Prof. E. W. Thompson, instructor in the B. Y. P. U. Christian culture course, has a list of seven sisters and four brothers who have made such grades that their names have been placed on the efficiency record in the study of the Bible. He hopes to have other names added to the list from Sunday to Sunday. The pastor, Dr. S. W. Bacote's discourse on the "Keys of the Kingdom" was greatly enjoyed by his fervent hearers. Next Sunday the subject of his message will be "Choosing a Road." All are invited to come out and hear this profound clergyman. The Sunday school, assisted by the B. Y. P. U., will conduct a Christmas tree and program Christmas eve. The annual Christmas services will be held early Christmas morning at 4 o'clock. The choir will be out in its full regalia and the pastor will deliver one of his masterpieces relative to the birth of our Savior. Don't miss this soul feast.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very pretty and enjoyable affair was the birthday supper given by Misses Magnolia Lewis and Bertha Smith, complimentary to the fiftieth birthday of their mother, Mrs. Alice Lewis. The supper was given in their pretty little flat at 1330 Michigan, Friday evening, November 27, 1914. The rooms were beautifully decorated in red and green and in the center of the dining room table was the birthday cake upon which were fifty burning candles. Promptly at 9 o'clock Mrs. Lewis was seated at the table together with thirty-seven of her most intimate friends. The supper, which was served in two courses, consisted of cream chicken, fruit salad, potato croquettes, cream and coffee and ice cream and cake. Mrs. Maggie Hopson, princess of Sylvester Temple, was toastmistress of the evening and in a few beautiful and well-chosen words wished for Mrs. Lewis many more happy birthdays. After supper Mrs. Susie Andrews, the peerless soprano soloist, favored her hearers with two beautiful solos rendered as only she can.

Many beautiful and valuable presents were received. The following is the list: Mrs. Maggie Hopson, a batonburg lunch cloth and dresser-scarf; Mrs. Annie Floyd, batonburg buffet-scarf; Mrs. Lucy Jackman, embroidered pillow cases; past and present Princesses' Council, linen pillow cases, silver coasters and bread plate; Mrs. Amanda Oliver, box of embroidered handkerchiefs; Mrs. Esther Robinson, china cup and saucer; Mrs. Lizzie Wanzer, jar of cherry preserves; Mrs. Ellen Williams, linen handkerchiefs; Mrs. Tillie King, china cup and saucer; Mrs. Fannie Spotwood, hand embroidered lunch cloth; C. H. Galloway, one silver dollar; Mrs. Laura Cliff, box of linen handkerchiefs; Miss Mary Wheeler, silk scarf; Mrs. Susie Andrews, Japanese creamer and sugar bowl; Miss Bertha Smith, Japanese chocolate pot; Miss Willa Taylor, linen handkerchiefs; Mrs. Matilda Baker, two pairs of hose; Mrs. Lizzie Moten, black silk neck scarf; Mr. R. A. Moten, half dozen water glasses; Mrs. Versa Rice, one hand-painted china plate; Mrs. Mamie Todd, hand-painted china olive dish; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hudson, two pairs of hose; Mrs. Lillian Malone, the birthday cake; Mrs. Curtis, box of candy; Mr. Luther Cox, box of toilet soap; Mrs. Mary Wright, shirtwaist; Mrs. Sara Lee Hammett, pair of hand-made silk garters; Mrs. Emma Strong, hand embroidered dresser-scarf and handkerchief; Miss Magnolia Lewis, shirtwaist.

Misses Lewis and Smith were ably assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Sara Lee Hammett, Lettie Martin, Theodosia Oliver, Versa Rice and Tillie King. Little Miss Edna Hammett presided at the piano. Mrs. Lewis wishes to thank her many friends for assisting her daughter in making this her fiftieth birthday the happiest of her life.
